

Our two countries' partnership is guided by very simple but powerful principles. The United States supports a strong independent prosperous and resilient Viet Nam and we respect each other's sovereignty, territorial integrity and political systems. Together we are achieving ambitious goals. that will bring prosperity to both of our peoples now and long into the future.

I am pessimistic that Biden will do anything in the time remaining. If I had something to tell the White House that the Cubans would do if they were removed from the list that would be worth trying. But I don't know if the Cubans would be interested, because Trump is likely to put them right back on.
